INITIAL SCAN

- Our team conducts an initial scan of your networks using pre-configured device that we provide for you to simply plug into your network.
- We configure the device to your specific network, and tailor the resulting report to your requirements.
- Our experts go over the details of the report and provide a list of security issues from most to least critical.
- Your IT department or service provider can then fix them in accordance with your current budget.

ONGOING MONITORING

- Once the initial scan is completed, the device is left in your network with a scheduled scan service in place.
- The device will then send out daily scan reports to our command center. Results are populated in a compliance dashboard for easy reference.
- If the scan detects a critical vulnerability, it triggers an email alert to the client and our command center.
- All results will be stored securely so that you can compare your current network status to historical benchmarks and baselines.
